HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Dean Straub of the University of Oregon addressed the high school assembly Wednesday morning, taking for his subject, "An Education: Does it Pay?"

Friday afternoon the Parent-Teachers association met in the high school auditorium. The program of the afternoon was as follows:

Piano solo, Charlotte Clagett.
Folk songs and Swedish Gymnastics, Girls of the Grade Gymnasium Class.

Vocal solo, Miss Catherine Conway.

Subject for discussion was "Improvement of the grade school grounds." After a general discussion, a committee was appointed to look into ways and means.

The base ball boys held a meeting to elect officers last week. Mitchell Moore was elected Captain and Steven Fielder, Manager.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR THE COUNTY OF MALHEUR.
ONTARIO NATIONAL BANK, a corporation, Plaintiff vs.

THOMAS F. ADAMS, and MARY C. ADAMS, Defendants.
TO THOMAS F. ADAMS AND MARY C. ADAMS, the above named defendants:

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON: You and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons; the same being the last day of the time prescribed by order of the court directing service of summons in said suit to be made upon you by publication; and if you fail so to answer, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the said court for the relief demanded in the said complaint, to-wit:

For judgment against Thomas F. Adams upon a note for $300, with interest thereon at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from December 26, 1917, until paid, and for $20 attorney fees, and upon a second note for $550, with interest thereon at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, from June 10, 1918, until paid, and $22 attorney fees, and for plaintiff's costs and disbursements in said suit.

The War and Your Gasoline

The first of a series of three statements

For obvious reasons the following facts of interest to the public could not be published during the war. They affected a vital war necessity regarding which the Government required secrecy. But now that the war is won, we are at liberty to make the following statement of facts:

Highly volatile gasoline for fighting-aeroplanes was one of the war needs. The output of this special gasoline by all the refineries east of the Rocky Mountains was not enough, so California was called upon to furnish a large part of the supply. At the request of the United States Government the Pacific Coast Petroleum War Service Committee apportioned California's quota among such of the large refiners as were able to make this special gasoline.

The Standard Oil Company, being the largest of these, had the greatest quota to fill. We were glad to do our part. We supplied more than our quota of aviation gasoline.

Aeroplane engines, operating high in the air under conditions of extreme cold and rarefied atmosphere, require a different gasoline from engines operating on the ground. In fact, the needs are so special that the gasoline manufactured for aeroplane use (often used at altitudes of from 20,000 to 25,000 feet) would be utterly indifferent for use in automobile or other internal-combustion engines operated on land or sea.

Aviation gasoline has to be highly volatile. It must vaporize rapidly even in the extreme cold of very high altitudes. On its rapid vaporization alone must often depend the lives of the men in the aeroplane. This gasoline would not be good for general use. It would lack power on the ground, its loss in storage by evaporation would be great and it would be expensive.

Making aviation gasoline for the Government took a very considerable part of the low boiling point or highly volatile constituents of the crude oil, and, as a result, the gasoline left available for regular use lacked those qualities which assure easy starting of the automobile engine.

The Government's demand for aviation gasoline reached its maximum in the late fall of 1918, and then for a period of about six weeks the deficiency of Red Crown gasoline in low boiling-point constituents or easy-starting qualities was most apparent.

Now that the war is won and the great demand for aviation gasoline has ceased, we are again able to offer the same grade of Red Crown gasoline as formerly, with the same full and continuous chain of boiling points—from the low to the high—which is necessary for easy starting, quick and smooth acceleration, high power and long mileage.
